- International exposure among our other partners around the world
- Opportunity to display your work in a compiled exhibition (online due to COVID-19).

Definition of Digital Art

According to the definition of the ASIAN Southeast Digital Art Association (ASEDAS), Digital Artwork is included in 3 types of digital formats, namely:

1. artwork produced entirely using a digital format medium such as a work produced using computer technology, a smartphone or tablet such as an iPad, etc. and displayed or sold digitally as in NFT;
2. Mixed media works, that is, works produced using digital technology in part, then printed on canvas and completed using traditional techniques such as drawings, etc. and physically exhibited in a physical exhibition or physically sold;
3. Artwork produced using traditional techniques entirely, then scanned using a scanner or digital camera or another device to be converted to digital format for display or sale in the digital world

But ultimately, whatever technique is used between the 3 methods as above, in the context of the digital world we need a digital platform to submit this artwork as an entry in a competition, the digital exhibition included in NFT either via email, FB messenger, WhatsApp, telegram, and others. So, with this indirectly the work is already in a digital format even though your original work is still in the traditional format.

This definition also includes every time we upload and share an image of our work on social media such as on Facebook, telegrams, WhatsApp, etc. when this work has been automatically converted to digital format.

In sum, it is anything that can be produced and re-produced digitally
